

THE SPRING SEASON IN HAND.

AND WITH IT A DEMAND FOR WEARING APPAREL SUITABLE FOR THE SEASON.

We show to-day the best assorted stock we have ever shown during our 25 years of business in this community, and as usual are displaying a line of novelties in Wash Goods for Ladies' and Children's Dresses never found with merchants outside of large cities. Ladies from other towns will be more than surprised were they to see our assortment of DRESS GOODS and TRIMMINGS, TABLE LINENS, TOWELINGS and NAPKINS, HOSIERY and NOTIONS of all kinds, as compared with stocks carried by other home merchants. We can safely make the statement that there is no comparison between the stocks. To the parties buying Clothing we have a few, and only a few, words to say. Don't throw your money away by paying more for last year's style of Clothing than new, nobby and this season's styles can be bought for. See our stock and decide for yourselves. We are making a specialty of our Boot and Shoe department, and for nobby foot wear, both for men's as well as ladies' and children's wear, we led all.

THE IOLA REGISTER.

FRIDAY, APRIL 14, 1893.

THE FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

The Washington National Farm and Fireside, Independent Democrat, in its issue of March 25th, says:

"No congress ever met under brighter skies or adjourned under darker clouds."

It will be noted in the history of congresses as the one that boasted the most and accomplished the least for the country or any part of the country or any portion of the people.

A grand congress. Elected on the basis of economy. A congress that saw fit to spread upon its record a denunciation of its predecessor as a billion dollars congress.

And then spent a billion and a quarter. From beginning to end it was a sham and a curse to the people and the country.

It protested against a czar. A czar was ruled by a triumvirate as vindictive and persistent and as ruthless as all the czars of Russia or the triumvirate of Rome.

Not one single thing accomplished for agriculture. Nothing but a niggardly reduction of the money spent on the farmer's department.

Such is the history of the fifty-second congress, a body that allowed a triumvirate and a minority to rule it because it was too cowardly to retrace its steps when it saw it was wrong, too subject to the influence of the rule of three men of such small minds that they preferred to control themselves rather than to submit to a fair and an open and honest debate on matters they opposed.

The option bill was killed because of the internal rules that allowed a triumvirate to refuse a day or a clause to consider the measure and permitted a Kilgore to waste the time of the country in making dilatory motions.

The food bill was killed because the triumvirate opposed its passage and refused a day for its consideration, and finally because Charles F. Crisp, speaker of the house, refused to recognize anyone to call it up under suspension of the rules (which required a two-thirds vote to pass it when a majority of the house signed a petition of twenty-four hours) requesting him to do so. Only thirty-one members that were seen refused to sign and half of those promised to vote for the bill.

Mr. Crisp should be honored and respected and remembered by the farmers of the United States and his lieutenants, Mr. Catchings, of Mississippi, and McMillan, of Tennessee, deserve a like distinction."

The last issue of the Troy Chief had probably the most unique obituary notice that ever appeared in a Kansas newspaper. Here is part of it:

"Samuel Harper, an old resident of the southwest corner of this township, died last Friday of pneumonia. He refused to have a doctor and would take no medicine, saying it would do him no good. He spent his last moments asking forgiveness of his wife for having been so mean and unkind to her during his life. He was probably the most stubborn, contrary, unhappy man who ever lived in the county. He put in much of his time railing at the way public affairs were managed. We are informed that, in the past year, feeling that he was growing old, he contemplated making a coffin for himself, a simple rough box, as he didn't propose to be swindled by the exorbitant charges of an undertaker. Speaking of this to a neighbor, he wondered 'what Sol Miller would have to say about it,' and, apparently to deprive us of an occasion for remarks, he abandoned the idea. But he gave orders before dying that he should be buried in a plain, cheap box. However, his wife ordered a nice, respectable coffin for him, and they say, when he was being placed in it, one eye opened as if to gaze with displeasure upon the extravagance and disregard of his orders. But the unhappy old man has at last gone from this wicked, dishonest world. No doubt he was so constituted by nature that he could not help his ways and disposition. But, wherever he has gone he will have to put up with the running of affairs as he finds them, the same as he did here."

The breaking up of the winter is the signal for the breaking up of the system. Nature is opening up the pores and throwing off refuse. DeWitt's Kidney Pills is of unquestionable assistance in this operation. Cowan & Auderman.

SOME PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

Colonel James D. Snoddy, ex-speaker of the House of Representatives, has addressed the following letter to Hon. Stephen H. Allen, the Populist Judge of the Supreme Court. The learned Judge has not yet answered the questions propounded and it is safe to presume he never will. We suggest that Republicans cut this letter out and carry it with them. They may find it useful.

LA CYGNE, Kan., March 30, 1893.

S. H. Allen, Topeka, Kan.: My DEAR JUDGE: I have today read your opinion in the Gunn case. Now ponder these fundamental questions:

First—What evidence have you that you are a Judge of the Supreme Court?

Second—What different evidence have the Representatives of their election to and membership in the House than you have of your election to and membership in the Supreme Court?

Third—Has the executive of the State any judicial power? If so, from what section of the constitution is it derived, and has the constitution any binding force?

Fourth—If the executive department is but a co-ordinate branch of the State government, not invested with judicial power, what right has it to decide as to the legality of another co-ordinate branch of the government?

Fifth—If the legislative branch of the State government is composed of two independent houses, how can the action of one on the question of the constitution of the other be of any binding force? Can the Senate judge of the election of the members of the House?

Sixth—Is it not true that the ultimate decision of the legal constitution of the legislative branch, and of its action within the constitutional limits, is reposed in the Supreme Court? If not, where is it reposed?

Seventh—If the executive department and Senate are each invested with judicial power, then how many judicial departments have we in State government, and which is supreme?

Eighth—What is an election, and who are prima facie entitled to qualify to hold an office by virtue of an election?

Ninth—Can any one who is not prima facie entitled to hold an office lawfully intrude himself into it and exercise its functions? Can usurpation give the right to exercise sovereignty?

Tenth—In the history of Kansas has any one before 1893 who was not prima facie entitled to a seat in the legislature been permitted to participate in the organization of either House?

Eleventh—Is not this undisturbed current of authority, which has swept ever graciously onward toward property and renown, of any force?

Twelfth—Do you hope to turn back the eternal and resistless sweep of human progress and enlightenment civilization?

"When the gods would destroy their first make mad." Pardon me that I but for the reservation you made of the right to reverse your decision, and but for the supreme urgency of the occasion.

The doctrine that one not prima facie entitled to a seat in the legislative Houses of the State may intrude himself therein—usurp the office, and by virtue of his vote constitute himself a member of the sovereign power of the State is so revolting that one who believes in a government "of the people, by the people, for the people," must shudder in contemplating the speedy results of such doctrine. The answer I know is that these men allege that their opponents were fraudulently given prima facie evidence of their right. But fraud is never presumed, and it is always presumed that public officers faithfully and honestly perform their duties.

Suppose Justice Valentine had said to you, "I know the canvassing board has given you evidence which prima facie entitles you to the seat on the Supreme Bench of the State which I now hold, but frauds have been perpetrated which void your election, and I do not propose to yield to you." What would have been your reply?

No, no; the position you take will not do in the government; "by the people, for the people," in an enlightened age. It is the end of all government by the people, and if it is not treason it is at least anarchy, ruin, desolation and their consequences, Mexicanization and barbarism.

With the sincere hope that you may upon reflection emerge from the swamps into which you have been led by some ignis fatuus, I am very respectfully

Your Obedt. Servant,

JAS. D. SNODDY.

WEATHER-CROP BULLETIN.

FOR WEEK ENDING APRIL 10, 1893.

PRECIPITATION.

The week has been characterized by an entire absence of rain over the major part of the State. Light rains have occurred in the contiguous portions of Ottawa and Cloud, in portions of Shawnee, Jackson, Jefferson, Atchison, Leavenworth, Wyandotte, Johnson, Labette, Cherokee, Crawford, Bourbon, Brown, and Nemaha, with some hail in Johnson and Crawford.

TEMPERATURE AND SUNSHINE.

The temperature has been abnormally high, being, generally, the highest temperatures ever recorded so early in the season in this State. The sunshine has been generally excessive for April.

RESULTS.

In general terms the results are beneficial, the ground over nearly all of the State is in very fine condition for working, and grass is starting well, trees leading and blooming, and gardens making a good start. Wheat is not doing well generally, though in localities it never was in better condition at this season of the year; it needs rain however. Very little has sprouted in the extreme western counties much of it being dry and as good as the day it was sown. Corn planting is in progress south of the Kaw. Most of the corns planted in the extreme south and some up, looking well. Plowing for corn north of the Kaw.

Oats generally are coming up well, though in the west the dry weather is retarding their growth. Flax is generally in. The pastures have proved much under the high temperature. Corn planting is in progress south of the Kaw. Most of the corns planted in the extreme south and some up, looking well. Plowing for corn north of the Kaw.

Peaches, plums, pears, cherries and apricots in bloom generally and in extreme southern counties, apples and strawberries. T. B. JENNINGS, Observer Weather Bureau Director.

IT SHOULD BE IN EVERY HOME. J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not without Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia after an attack of grippe, when various other remedies and several physicians had failed to do good.

Robert Barber, of Cooksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for lung trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottles at Evans' drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.

Don't be AFRAID. So many people avoid crowds and large gatherings, because they are in constant dread of being trod upon, and having a pet corn or bunion painfully bruised—this can be avoided by the use of Chrysos Corn Cure. Every bottle warranted. Evans Bros.

Pears' Soap

Skin blemishes, like foul teeth, are the more offensive because they are mostly voluntary.

The pores are closed. One cannot open them in a minute; he may in a month.

Try plenty of soap, give it plenty of time, and often; excess of good soap will do no harm. Use Pears'—no alkali in it; nothing but soap.

All sorts of stores sell it, especially druggists; all sorts of people are using it.

Pointers for World's Fair.

Footprints on the sands of time this year will all be turned toward Chicago, where the great Columbian Exposition is to be held.

While walking may be good, the majority of Kansans will prefer riding in the solid Santa Fe Route vestibule train.

Perhaps you don't know that the Santa Fe has the shortest line between Kansas City and Chicago by 30 miles; that absence of grade crossings lessens the number of compulsory stops; and that three trains each way each day afford ample room for all travelers.

Luxurious palace sleepers, fine dining car service and free chair cars; better than the best of other lines.

Leave Kansas City 8:10 p. m., on Columbian Line; 7 p. m., on Denver and Chicago Line; or at 8:30 a. m., on Daylight Express.

Drop in and talk it over with nearest Santa Fe Route ticket agent or address GEO. T. NICHOLSON, G. P. & T. A., Topeka, Kans.
